Captain Kidd's Treasure.

The fortune hunters of New Jersey have some new discoveries to speculate upon, and if the assertions of some recent finders of coin are to be believed, one of their number has at last definitely located the spot where the pirate Kidd concealed his treasure "as he sall." From Cold Spring, Cape May county, comes the story of the discovery of a chest containing $30,000 on the Dick Thompson farm, near Fishing Creek. Two men, one of whom bears the name of Garreston, were digging ditches on the farm, which is now owned by Garretson, when they hauled up the money chest. The coin, they say, is so old that it is scarcely possible for them to tell the exact value of the pieces, but the larger part is gold, the coins being about the size of twenty-dollar gold pieces. It is said furthermore that Captain Kidd's name was found imprinted on the chest. There has been a periodical excitement in the place for the last forty years, and this report has caused a sensation that has affected the country for miles around. The fortune hunters of New Jersey have Valuable Services.

The New York Commercial Advertiser thus sums up the political services render-ed to the country during the past twenty years by Horace Greeley:

He supported Scott on a pro-slavery plat-form in 1352.

He championed Douglass against Abra-ham Lincoln in the Senatorial struggle of

He sounded the slogan of disunion and encouraged the leaders of rebellion in 1861.

He opposed the re-election of Lincoln and prayed for peace on any terms in 1865. He plotted with Clay and Sanders, bailed Davis, denounced the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus, attacked the reconstruction measures, and capped the cli-max by courting an alliance with the Copperheads to defeat the soldier by whose bravery the Union was preserved.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., May 26, 1872.

KNOXVILLE, TENN., May 20, 1872.

To the Readers of the Weekly Chronicle:

We have just entered upon the third year of our Real Estate Agency, and with its commencement we have concluded to adopt a new feature in regard to our column in the WEEKLY CHRONICLE. We propose to change it frequently, and to use it for the purpose of describing in detail some of the farm property which we have for sale, and for giving information, from time to time, about the country.

We are pleased to say that the efforts that have been made during the past few years, to bring the attractions of East Tennessee prominently before the Northern people, have, to quite a large extent, been successful, and the number of those seeking homes in our section is constantly increasing. Almost without exception, new comers are well pleased, and the contraction of the section is constantly increasing.

successful, and the number of those seeking homes in our section is constantly increasing. Almost without exception, new comers are well pleased, and we can assure all good citizens, that they will find a hearty welcome, and a healthful, salubrious climate in East Tennessee.

We invite correspondence from all quarters, and will cheerfully furnish any information that may be desired.

We have remaining a few cepies of our Land Register for January and July, 1871, which contain interesting and reliable nformation about our section, and which will be sent free on receipt of stamps for return postage. We also have a correct colored county map of Tennessee which will be forwarded to any address on receipt of 25 cents. Many persons are not acquainted with the best routes by railroad to East Tennessee, and for the information of such we submit the following: Residents of the New England States, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Delaware should come via Washington city, and Lynchburg, Va. The fare from New York city is $29, and from Washington $21 80.

Persons living in Ohio and the Western States should come via Louisville, Ky., and Nashville, Tenn. The fare from Louisville is $20. Emigrant tickets can be had at a considerable reduction from these rates.

Parties coming here to examine the country need have no hesitation in calling at our office, as it is free and open to all new comers, and we furnish lists of property for sale and information free of expense, whether a purchase is made or not. We can save such persons many items of expense by telling them where to look for the property they wish, and they need have no fears of being deal with otherwise than in an honest and upright manner.

We have no sympathy with land sharks.

We are using every effort in our power to assist in the development of the wonderful and varied resources of our section, and we have no desire to misrepresent facts or induce persons to come here from false or overdrawn statements as to our advantages.

Our list of country property is, by far, too extensive for publication in one column of the Chronicle, but we add a description of a small number of farms, which will be changed from time to time as new and attractive offers are added to our list. and attractive offers are added to our list.

For a special list of city and suburban property, we invite attention to the DALLY CHRONICLE.
